BAUD Génération 9

AOC Côtes du Jura
Rosé D'été L'Audacieuse

Lightness and frivolity are highly recommended for our Rosé. This fruity, greedy and thirst-quenching wine is intended to refresh you in summer as a pre-dinner drink or with barbecue and picnics.

Grape Variety

Mix of Poulsard, and Pinot Noir which are the three Jurassian red wine grape varieties.

Cultivation

The density of planting is about 6500 vines per hectare. The soil is mostly made of marl and limestone. Our production is based on sustainable practices so as to preserve the environment. Since 2014, our winery has been certified "Terra Vitis".

Wine-making process

Made of bleedings in steel vats where destalked grapes are macerated. Fermentation of alcohol made under temperature monitoring allowing product's fruitiness and freshness to be kept.

Tasting Notes

Has to be consumed at low temperature (6 to 8°C).

The red berries flavour is the strongest one on the nose.

Its attack in the mouth is frank without being aggressive and its tannins are almost non-existent. The flavours of this pleasant wine remind the ones that can be perceptible on the nose: Morello cherry, strawberry and red currant. This is a summer wine because of its lightness in mouth-feel and freshness.

Wine-pairing

Salted meat, pork and smoked meats (mountain ham), barbecue and pizza.

Wine-ageing

Commercialised from April to September and must be consumed within the year.
